1:30–2:30: Good Research Gone Bad

A professional genealogist, Lisa B. Lee publishes a monthly newsletter, the Got Genealogy Gazette, which provides timely and useful information to help genealogists make the most of their online genealogical searches. Ms. Lee is a graduate of the National Institute for Genealogical Studies (University of Toronto), where she obtained her PLCGS (Professional Learning Certificate in Genealogical Studies) with certificates in U.S., Canadian and Irish genealogy and methodology. Since the inception of ExpertConnect, by Ancestry.com in 2009, Ms. Lee was one of the original Experts, and conducted professional research for clients in the U.S. and Europe, until the demise of ExpertConnect in early 2011. In addition to the Got Genealogy Gazette, dozens of her articles have been published in numerous genealogical journals and newsletters in North America.

She speaks and conducts workshops in the U.S. and Canada, where her animated style, infinite knowledge of everything internet, wit and humor ensure that attendees will not only learn a lot, but will have fun doing so! If you ask her a genealogical question she can't answer, you'll win an awesome reward. Mind you, your question has to be pretty hard to stump her, especially since she's memorized the internet by heart. If genealogy isn't fun, then why do it?
